

Dear Jackie and Andrew,

"Life is made of moments, pieces of glittering mica in a long stretch of gray cement." You made one of the small pieces of glittering mica happen for me this past weekend. It is no accident you came into my life and that of Melissa and Jeremy's when you did. The year of working with you and getting to know you touched us in so many wonderful and positive ways.

I am still absorbing all that transpired the whole weekend and cannot yet describe all that I feel. So, forgive me if I don't say enough. Just know how deeply I appreciate all that went into planning for this wedding and how perfect, in spite of the storm, it all was. Most people did not even know the ceremony was supposed to be outside. It was all so beautiful. Melissa and Jeremy were so happy and that is really all that mattered to me.

Jackie, you and I will always smile when we think of my speech! Believe me though, there are many more things I will remember that are far more important. I know all the effort you put into making this wedding so special for us. Every detail was attended to. You are such a kind soul and I just feel that in a brief time we truly connected.

Andrew, thank you for guiding me through some of the specifics of the wedding. Your suggestions did not go unnoticed and I so valued not only your advice but your honesty as well. It helped to give me confidence and now I feel I can do anything. Well, almost anything!

When Melissa and Jeremy catch their breath, I will check dates to meet them in Boston. I told Danielle and Melissa that Friday nights are generally a good night for you providing there are no events happening. They are so excited to get together, especially when good food is involved and they are not paying! All kidding aside, my children thought you both were "awesome". Me too!

I look forward to spending a relaxing evening with you. Thank you again.

With much affection,

Dianne
