

As we drove home from the manor on Sunday, we were filled with exhilaration from our experience. Over the past few days we have connected with many of our guests. The accolades on the outstanding food and presentation, the comfortable ambiance, and the attentive and personable staff were all expressed to us over and over again.

The only thing that keeps us from being sad that Rachel's wedding is over is the thought that we have another daughter that will get married someday. So we will have another opportunity to knock on the door of your beautiful and gracious manor.

With sincere appreciation,

Janice Krak
