

Dear Jackie and Andrew,

Wow! Jamie and Greg's wedding weekend was perfect!

Before we talk about the details, we must tell you how terrific Ted is. Besides being a wonderful, warm person, he was so helpful in every aspect of the weekend from giving us a hand with the luggage, delivering gift bags and so much more. His attention to every little detail is second to none.

Where to begin? The rehearsal dinner was so lovely. The food was delicious – that marinated barbecued brisket and the roasted chicken were so good that we still regret not eating more! The tables looked beautiful. Jackie, the flowers were perfect! Thank you to Ted for getting us all set up to show the video. Speaking of Ted, (I guess we cannot stop speaking of Ted!), somehow he always appeared out of nowhere whenever we had a question or problem and he always had the solution immediately. We loved having our Ipod pumped into the speakers and playing music during the day.

The gathering after the Rehearsal Dinner was wonderful. All of Jamie and Greg's friends, around the fire pit, singing songs, playing guitar and making Smores. Does it get better than that? Yes, all of the stars were shining brightly!

The day of the wedding was so much fun. Breakfast was delicious – loved the frittata. The guys arrived and played football and Frisbee on the Manor grounds and the girls all bonded over at the Cottage House while they got their makeup and hair done. A delicious lunch served in both places. The Cottage House was beautiful and the bridal party really enjoyed staying there.

The wedding was just magnificent. You had blankets and fur jackets to hand out to those who were cold. The scene was so lovely with the candles and the chandeliers lit. The toast after the ceremony up on the balcony was moving and awesome.

Everyone raved about the food at the cocktail hour. We got so many comments about the special cocktail that was served. The tables looked beautiful and people appreciated the opportunity to sit and eat and talk to the people at their table while having dinner. Dinner was elegant and tasteful and was a great segway between the cocktail hour and the party. And when the party began, there was no stopping our guests from dancing the night away.

The post party downstairs worked out great and the fact that we were able to have Rick drive everyone back to their hotels, allowed us not to worry. We were upstairs, in our beautiful Ralph Lauren designed room, eating popcorn you gave us and sitting in our robes with the bride's parent's talking about every aspect of the wedding. It was like camp up there!

The brunch was the finishing touches on a perfect weekend. Chef Michael did not disappoint again. Every dish was delicious and although we did not want to eat everything that was available, we could not help ourselves. How lovely that people sat outside and inside on a beautiful Sunday morning.

Everyone on your staff could not be nicer or more accommodating. They were helpful to all of our guests, but most importantly, the grandparents and elderly or sick were taken care of in the most gracious way possible. Thank you for making them feel special and for helping them whenever they needed assistance. Special thanks to Danielle, who always had a smile on her face and a willingness to help whenever she could.

As we were about to leave, Jackie pulls in with pictures of the wedding, developed first thing in the morning, so that Jamie and Greg were able to take the pictures with them on their honeymoon. How thoughtful and considerate was that?

We could probably go on and on, because there were so many little things that added to the wedding being everything we all hoped and dreamed that it might be. The accolades from family and friends have been endless. "Now the bar is so high." "The most beautiful wedding I have ever attended." "I knew as soon as we pulled up to the Manor that we were in for a special weekend." We got rave reviews, but we did not need anyone to tell us that we had just experienced a magical weekend wedding at the Lord Thompson Manor.

Thank you both and Ted for the perfect wedding weekend that will be a highlight in all of our memories forever.

Sincerely,

Terri and Jeff
