

Dear Andrew, Jackie, Ted, Amanda and all Lord Thompson Manor Staff,

We would like to thank you for making the most special day in our lives the most exceptional experience that we, along with our family and friends could have ever imagined. From the atmosphere, to the food, to the warmth, friendliness and attentiveness of your wait staff and (most importantly, some guests would say) bartenders – you orchestrated everything perfectly. Usually, if one attends a wedding, people might complement the bride on how she looked, or the color scheme, or the dancing and food. We received all of these complements from our guests, but they were always secondary to expressions of awe regarding the service and the people that work at The Manor. From our friend who is a carpenter to our friend who is the Director of Special Events for the President of Boston University, the sentiment was the same – service was impeccable and the staff was one-of-a kind. We were impressed when our wedding parties, weeks after our wedding, mentioned good things about Ted and Amanda (remembering their names) as if they were wonderful old friends.

We received a comment from a good friend that our wedding was the “perfect balance of class and silliness,” which is thanks to you. The wedding mirrored the sense of balance that Andy and I try to possess in our lives as we are hard-working, organized and practical, but also love to be carefree and enjoy time with our friends. For one, the private moment was a remarkable and unique part of our day – an experience that now, we cannot imagine having our marriage begin without. On the other hand, the fire pit, cigars and subs at the end of the night allowed for ultimate relaxation and fun.

The Lord Thompson Manor and all of the people that come together to represent how truly extraordinary it is, were able to translate our vision of a perfect wedding into reality. Thank you to Jackie for orchestrating that vision. Thank you to Andrew, in the most kind and diplomatic way imaginable, for diminishing our budget-related concerns as a couple trying to finance the occasion ourselves. Thank you to Chef Mike for creating the most delicious dishes and food pairings throughout the course of the weekend; you were the driver behind much of our guests’ happiness and contentment. Thank you to Ted and Amanda who we, and clearly our guests and families, will never forget. Thank you to the wait staff, bar staff and kitchen staff, who are the dedicated people have led to the many requests that we have fielded for your website or contact information so that friends, or friends of friends, might also have the wedding of their dreams at Lord Thompson Manor.

We hope to be back as guests for another amazing wedding or New Years Eve!

Warm Regards,

Tara & Andy
